Make a Difference
ONE MISSIONARY AT A TIME

When you match the right service opportunity with the best missionary candidates, amazing things can happen.

Meet Ripe for Harvest World Outreach … providing the tools and support needed for individual missionaries to have the chance to personally decide where and when they will serve.

The opportunity to provide a more perfect match between mission and missionary can have significant impact on fulfilling mission goals.

A MESSAGE FROM THE FOUNDER AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The first 25 years of my ‘full time Christian service’ allowed me to serve with some wonderful parachurch organizations: Youth for Christ, the Billy Graham organization, Sports World Ministries, and the Campus Crusade Jesus Film Project.

I then spent 20 years serving two churches in the Phoenix, AZ area. Having grown up on the mission field and seeing God work in the lives of individual missionaries serving in difficult and challenging places and times, I wanted to create an opportunity for others to fulfill their personal vision of the harvest and follow God’s call for themselves and not always helping fulfill the vision of others.

In Ripe For Harvest each missionary has the opportunity to pursue their personal God-given vision and spend their time, talent, energy, spiritual gifts, experience, education and training in ministry. If you can satisfy the Mission Candidate Criteria and your missionary project fits into our by-laws, you have found a home.

Welcome to Ripe for Harvest World Outreach!

“Ask the Lord of the harvest, therefore, to send out workers into his harvest field…” (Mt. 9:37)
How the Program Works

Missionary candidates start by completing and submitting an online application. Once accepted, the candidate will begin notifying prayer partners and donors, along with supporting churches to prepare to go into the field of God’s choosing.

Many of the missionaries are career missionaries transferring from other mission sending agencies, and have extensive training and experience either on the field or in academia. However, for those with limited training or experience, RFH helps the individual through one-on-one training with the Field Director and/or one of our Regional Directors. Additional resources are provided, including the organization’s Support Raising Manual.

ADMINISTRATIVE RESPONSIBILITIES

As a recognized member of the Evangelical Council for Financial Accountability (ECFA), Ripe for Harvest provides tax-deductible receipts for each gift. We do not share/sell/trade names or addresses, or solicit funds.

Each missionary shares in the administrative costs of the home office personnel and expenses with 12% of all contributions. As donations are received for missionaries, monthly reports are sent to indicate the source of the funds and how much was given toward particular projects and personal support. The Board of Directors must approve budgets for all mission projects and salaries.
